

Ampt, John Andrews

Jan. 1917

(07)

January 26th, 1917

Major Anyot,

Sanitary Adviser to the Canadian Forces in England.

Dear Major Anyot:

We are glad to hear from time to time what valuable services you have rendered and to know that it has already received recognition. I hope that before the year is over that you will however be able to be at home.

Meantime, I am writing to you about Dr. R. R. Mullin. He is very anxious to do active work, but he is entirely dependent upon his salary for all his income and he would have to obtain sufficient money to enable him to meet present and future obligations in the way of supporting his family. If he were to be accepted he would have to resign his position in Nevada without its being held for him after his return. In view of this I have written to him that I think he should hold on to his position until the path of duty elsewhere is very clear, but he says that he would be more than pleased if in any way his special training could be used either in the laboratory staff or in sanitary work.

I told him that I would write to you to find out what likelihood there is of such an opening as might suit him. I shall be glad if you will let me know as soon as possible.

I have seen Colonel Nasmyth several times since his return. I think that he is very happy to get back. With kind regards, I am,

Yours sincerely,